

The Cosmic Paradigm Newsletter
June 19, 2006

Greetings,

We have now visited 28 States on our tour about America. I feel privileged to have spoken with so many conscious, motivated, and active people. Heidi and I appreciate the courtesies extended by those who arranged gatherings and those who took time out of their busy schedules to meet with us. You are indeed very special people. I look forward to seeing you again and to meeting with others in the coming months.

I don't know about you, but I sense we are already in the midst of our transformation to a higher dimension, to a whole new existence. I see many people changing their lifestyles, not all, but significant numbers, and the numbers are growing. The volume of material from channeled sources is overwhelming. Scientific evidence is mounting. Alternative news sources are spilling forth a corocopia of the good and bad. Alternative movies are playing in mainstream theatres. By reading between the lines, I even see it in the national media.

Last month I spoke with you about recognizing how extraordinarily powerful you are. This month, I want you to take the next step with me and begin to do something with that power to help your own transformation, the transformation of our brothers and sisters, and assist the transition of our planet (Gaia) to a higher dimension. In "Creating the Cosmic Paradigm," I wrote about creating a veritable paradise. I believe we are on the verge of accomplishing something beyond that vision, and that it will be completed within a very short time frame.

I believe (notice I said "believe," not "know") that the events of our planet's ascension will be accomplished prior to 2012. I believe this transition will bring with it spiritual challenges and physical turmoil on a scale we can barely comprehend. Let us now examine how we should conduct ourselves during the interval.

The first step is to wake up. See what is going on about us, see it for what it is, not what the media would have us believe, see it as the chains that enslave us. E.g. See the medical system for the pharmaceutical and HMO dominated behemoth it has become. Do not wallow in the bleak reality of our current situation; rather let it spur us to action.

The next step is sustainability. In whatever situation you find yourself, see what you can do to tread more lightly on the plant. See how you can secure a reliable source of water, a source of food, and a source of energy. Store food and water. Shop locally rather than buying from stores which import their goods. Un-plug from everything that seeks to make you just another numbered account: banks, financial, government, medical, etc.

Take full responsibility. Each of us is totally responsible for what happens to us, either by action or inaction. Accept that reality. Collectively, we are responsible for all that is happening to our planet. Accept that reality. What do you want to leave to your children, your grandchildren?

Embrace your power. Understand that you are extraordinarily powerful, that you are immortal. No one can force you to do anything unless you concede your power. We need but look to entrepreneurs to see those who are willing to go against the system. No, it is not easy; yes, it can be done.

Hold the vision. In prior newsletters and in my book "Creating the Cosmic Paradigm," I laid out my vision of the world to come. It is indeed a veritable paradise compared to that which we currently have. No, it is not foolish to embrace such a utopia. Yes, it is achievable, if we each desire it to happen. During the coming tough times, cling to this vision.

Become a Loving Observer. Quantum physics has taught us that we can influence the outcome of an experiment merely by observing it. See our current planetary situation as a vast experiment. Become an observer -- as opposed to one who confronts the power structure with weapons of their choosing. Observe with a loving attitude -- send love and positive energy to the darkest of places, to places in turmoil, to individuals and institutions who seek to enslave us.

Become a Living Example. There is no grater power than to "walk your talk." By living the aforementioned items, you radiate to all that there is a higher way, that there is hope, and that you are committed.

The Personal Declaration of Independence below speaks for itself. I encourage you to consider it carefully.

The Message from Matthew below is somewhat dated, but it contains an excellent summary of current events.

Until next time,

Personal Declaration of Independence

I, _____, do hereby declare my independence from the institutions of this planet that no longer serve my best interests. I will no longer submit to those who would enslave me, whether by direct act or by inaction.

When it becomes necessary for an individual to dissolve the bonds that have connected him or her with various structures, and to take upon himself or herself the powers of organization, justice, and equality, all in keeping with his or her cosmic birthright, he or she must declare their intention. By so doing they request assistance from beings of older and wiser civilizations who are prepared to advise them during their personal transformation to a higher way of life.

I hold the following truths: a) That Earth-humans are created equal to other sentient beings in the universe; as such, no human or non-human has the right to enslave us. b) That we are possessed of an eternal spirit, endowed by Divinity, and as such have certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, freedom of action, expression, association and organization, and the freedom, as we so choose, to interact with our brothers and sisters who reside other than on the surface of this planet. c) That to secure these rights, we may create institutions and organizations that derive their powers from the consent of their members. d) That whenever any institution, whether created by us or not, becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the members to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new structure, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to serve the best interests of all members.

Prudence dictates that institutions and organizations should not be changed for light or transient causes; and accordingly experience has shown, that mankind is more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right them by abolishing the institutions to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, perpetuated by the same persons and organizations evinces a design to reduce the members to a state of slavery, it is the right of the members, it is their duty, to throw off such organizations, and to provide new structures. Such has been pattern of the vast majority of mankind; and such is now the necessity that causes us to reinstitute our current organizations. The history of the present paradigm is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all directed toward maintaining slavery over mankind.

To support our position, we submit the following:

The individual rights of citizens have been systematically overridden in favor of greater control by governments. These include:

- * Arrest and detention without the benefit of legal counsel
- * Invasion of privacy without court orders
- * Torture
- * Deliberate lies
- * Cover-ups of illegal activities
- * Attacks on activities that threaten the power of those in control

- + Governments have placed the creation of money in the hands of private individuals through the instrument of central banks. They have instituted taxes to place additional wealth in the hands of the owners of such banks.
- + The medical system has been subverted to the desires of corporations rather than operating for the general welfare.
- + Religions, distorted to become control mechanisms, have misled believers, covered up misbehaviors, and subverted the right of direct contact with the Divine.
- + The scientific community perpetuates theories and dismisses evidence to serve the elite of that community rather than the general welfare.
- + The legal system has been modified to serve its own purposes rather than dispense equal justice for all.
- + The educational system serves the perpetuation of its institutions and has been contorted to produce subservient workers rather than independent thinkers.
- + Financial institutions have promoted war, condoned illegal activities, and sought benefit to a select few rather than serving the general public.
- + History has been repeatedly rewritten to destroy truths not supporting the dominant culture.
- + Newspapers, magazines, television, and movies have been used as tools to control the general population.
- + The environment has been systematically destroyed to benefit the wealth and power accumulation of a few.
- + Billions of dollars have been diverted to covert, unsupervised intelligence activities and the organizations aligned with them.
- + Poverty, trading in arms, drugs and human lives have been tolerated by governments.
- + The activities of beings from extraterrestrial civilizations, some of whom visit and interact with the people of this planet, has been systematically thwarted, covered up and misrepresented.

I, therefore, appeal to the Creator of the universe, and all who act in accordance with the Divine Plan, to assist me in breaking from my bondage. As a human of planet Earth, I am an independent, spirit-endowed personality, and as such am free to organize and associate as I see fit. I withdraw allegiance to the established power structures, and all connection between me and such institutions are hereby dissolved and/or modified; and, along with my brothers and sisters of planet Earth, I declare myself free to establish institutions of my choosing for the highest good of all. I renounce violence as a means to obtain my objectives.

I hereby declare myself a citizen of planet Earth. For the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Love, I pledge my life, my fortune and my sacred honor. I do hereby this _____ of _____, 2006 affix my signatures as a proof of my intent to join with others to create a freely structured civilization upon this planet.

Matthew's May 23, 2006 Message

May 23, 2006

(NOTE: I'm replying to emails as quickly as I can, but some unanswered messages date back to April 28. I won't have computer access while we're out of state, and I'll greatly appreciate no more emails until mid-June. Thank you for your patience! Suzy)

S: Hi, Matthew dear! I have the questions ready.

MATTHEW: What a beautiful and inspiring sight to enjoy, Mother! It's such a delight for me, just as it is for you, to see the young deer calmly nibbling the bushes only a few yards up the slope from your window. Now, may we start with your copying my May 15 reply to Jean, please?

S: Yes, of course. .... Here it is:

S: Good morning, Matthew dear. Jean Hudon is asking about a tsunami hitting the East Coast of the United States and killing the many millions of people living along the coastline. Please comment on this possibility.

MATTHEW: Good morning to you, dear soul, and yes, I'll happily tell you that this "predicted" event will NOT happen. There will be NO geophysical events of that magnitude in this unprecedented era on Earth. She has requested that all possible of her life forms accompany her on her ascension journey, and two conditions determine who shall do this: The first is absorbing the light constantly being beamed to all of humankind, as the light is what will enable physical survival in the higher frequencies of Earth's destination. The second is the longevity choice in individual soul contracts, and the many millions of souls residing along the East Coast of the United States have not chosen to transition simultaneously at some given moment within the next few days.

While it is true that remaining negativity on the planet must be relieved and earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and storms will continue to achieve this purpose, the technology of our extraterrestrial brothers and sisters has been and will continue alleviating the most profound effects of those happenings by leveling out the energy release. Further, if one's soul contract has been fulfilled and the time of transition is at hand, the person will leave this physical experience to continue evolution in the next spirit lifetime regardless of the safety of his or her location; the same is true if the original contract is amended, which also is by soul level choosing. If the contract calls for continued physical experiencing, the person will survive the same event that others do not.

We understand that the majority of the world's population doesn't have the opportunity to read the messages transmitted by high light beings to their respected receivers, but the light intensity is reaching all who are willing with the effect that communication between the soul and the consciousness is becoming clear. This includes a sense of serenity even in the midst of frenzy if you will but allow this to be the foundation of your consciousness.

Living in fear is NOT what you chose to be a constant in your current experiencing, but an emotion you chose to overcome in this time of spiritual renewal in your world. We encourage you--we urge you!--to stay steadfast in the joy and strength of the light, remembering that wherever you are is where you chose to be and that myriad helpers are accompanying you on your pathway.

MATTHEW: Thank you. There is a deeper reason for my request than confirming that the tsunami will not occur, which by now I believe is the conclusion of all. We are seeing that when information about those kinds of predicted, or potential, events flows through the Internet, even some of the staunchest of light workers allow fear to enter thoughts and feelings. This is understandable in the population that has no knowledge whatsoever of what is underway on Earth, but on your behalf, it is a concern to us when you who are enlightened become fearful.

Three factors are at issue here, and I have addressed all of them in previous messages. First, I repeat what I replied to Jean, that if in one's soul contract the time of transition has come, the person will leave this lifetime regardless of how safe the surroundings; and if the original contract is amended to include earlier departure, that, too, is by soul level choice. If the contract calls for continued experiencing, the person will survive amidst a crowd transitioning to Nirvana.

Second, fearful thoughts and feelings dim your light, and for however briefly that may be, your psyche is vulnerable to entry by a dark streamer that will enable more fearful circumstances to beset you because the energy you are emitting is pulling them to you. Even masses of Earth's peoples in fear will not slow the pace of her journey, but it will affect those individuals' pathways. We are with you every moment to reinforce your steadfastness in the light and help you hold a positive vision of the events that are rapidly unfolding, and because of our abiding love for each one of you, it is sad for us to see any lapses in your own resolve.

And third, part of spiritual evolvement is using your innate powers of perception and discernment and relying upon self to distinguish truth from falsehood. If you are in doubt about the authenticity of any information, ask your soul to tell you--the answer comes as intuition. Like all other abilities that need to be developed, this takes practice, so do not be discouraged if you don't master it immediately. We at this station have been enlightening, guiding and encouraging you through our messages, and our infinite love and light-beaming always are with you; nevertheless, it is essential that you use your own powerful knowingness and not depend upon external answers.

Please know that this is not a reprimand! Nor is it a call for you to meet our expectations! We are responding to an urgent plea from your collective souls to help you fearlessly stay the light course in the coming months, when much will be revealed and some backlash is logically anticipated as the steadily increasing light shines ever more brightly on the deeds of the darkness. Your last calendar year was a pivotal time as the deeply entrenched dark pockets were dislodged; this year is disclosure time as those pockets become public knowledge. Not only will the dark ones resist being thrust into the light of widespread awareness, but also there will be some energetic resistance by fence-straddlers who are conflicted between personal interest in maintaining the political and economic status quo and welcoming the truths as they are revealed and the resultant changes in leadership.

Why would ones with vested interest in the status quo welcome changes? Mother, it's because they fear the policies that are destructive to the environment, the outcome if the Bush cabal proceeds with its plan for nuclear strikes at Iran, the unfathomable and rising national debt, and the possibility that the growing numbers of financially-desperate and politically-disgusted citizens could lead to anarchy. These fence-straddlers are rational--they can see the insanity in the government's blindness to those situations, and while their luxurious lifestyles are all-important, logic tells them that if changes aren't made, everything can go to hell in a hand basket, as the expression goes.

Regardless of how eager you are to greet the changes that lead to Earth's Golden Era, it is necessary to be aware of the intensified energy in the beginning stages. The combination of reactions to the disclosures of truth will generate energy of an obvious frenetic nature on the planet similar to what we've been seeing for some time in Earth's energy field of potential. This hasn't happened before because so much of what has been transpiring is largely unsuspected, let alone known, and when the facts about the extent of corruption, deception and depravity in your governments are known, the collective consciousness will create a new and frenzied global dynamic that will add to the negativity that still must be released. Further, for a while longer you will feel the effects of the manmade electromagnetic waves especially designed for your emotional instability, physical stress and distress, and mind-controlled programming. When you know what to anticipate, simply by remaining steadfast in the light you are prepared for the encounter!

Now, Mother, that said, I will happily answer questions on your list. I know some are pertinent to what I just mentioned about frenzied energy on the near horizon.

S: I think a lot of them are. I've combined many and will start with those about the U.S. government because even readers in other countries want to know about these situations. What is Patrick Fitzgerald doing to get more indictments; will President Bush and Vice President Cheney be impeached; has Karl Rove already been served with indictment papers; when will the truth about 9/11 come out?

MATTHEW: Very well, following the indictment of "Scooter" Libby--the tip of the iceberg, so to speak--Patrick Fitzgerald and his staff continued their relentless efforts to find documentation and record testimonies showing that culpability in many illegal acts goes straight to the president. This was strongly suspected prior to Libby's indictment, but irrefutable evidence and appropriate charges are essential so that no technicality in the legal processes can delay or derail the forthcoming suits. At this juncture, we see indictments rather than the far weaker impeachment proceedings for Bush and Cheney. Rove has been served, and many other indictments will follow due to the exhaustive investigation that includes the extent of the lies in the official claims about 9/11. No, I can't give you an exact timetable for public announcements, but I can say that the pressure being felt by almost all in this administration is building to a crescendo and motivating growing numbers to tell what they know.

S: What will happen regarding Bush and company's threats toward Iran; do you see China and Russia militarily opposing U.S. air strikes against Iran?

MATTHEW: The field of potential hasn't changed because the same ones who are causing havoc in other areas still are intent upon conquering Iran, however totally irrational their plan is. It is as I have mentioned in previous messages, that there may be incursions, but any attempts to use nuclear warheads on missiles will be failures--our ET family's technology will see to that. We know the natural keen interest of China and Russia relative to what the US will do, but both of those countries are first and foremost interested in their respective national development progress, not escalating any war scenario; so you could say that in the field of potential, the energy of their interest is neutral.

S: That's good! Moussaoui's trial has become a sort of comedy of errors; what's really going on?

MATTHEW: We view this as a pathetically transparent effort to show the people of the United States that their government will leave no stone unturned to prosecute someone who is "guilty" of involvement in the 9/11 tragedy. Moussaoui is guilty only of being handy for their purpose. Between drugs, sleep deprivation and electrical shocks, his mind is addled rather than programmed as intended, and that accounts for his bizarre behavior. This trial showcases the injustice in the country's justice system.

S: I agree with that! Can electronic voting machines be re-worked so an accurate count is assured; will Diebold and any other "fixed" voting machines be replaced by paper ballots; since I'm afraid my vote won't count, is there any reason for me to vote; will a voting system in any country ever be honest?

MATTHEW: I don't know what secure measures will be developed to insure an honest ballot count, but even without that security, the energy in the intent of your vote contributes significantly to hastening the day when honesty is restored to voting systems in all countries. Yes, absolutely this will happen as the dark influence loses its hold on governments. This hold is cracking in countries where it isn't as obvious as it is in the United States, and eventually all national, state, province and community leaders will be spiritually evolved souls.

S: Please comment on "hooker-gate" that was reported on a CNN news program.

MATTHEW: The term "hooker-gate" is much more frivolous than the reality, which is nothing less than a vast web of darkness that for years has been pervasive within the U.S. government and extends to visiting foreign dignitaries, multinational corporate lobbyists and other Illuminati figures. With the intention of creating blackmail situations much more than offering entertainment, a "harem" to satisfy heterosexual, homosexual and pedophilia interests is available "24/7," and satanic rituals are part of it. Films of the unimaginable depravity along with proof of widespread bribery have resulted in congressional votes that fly in the face of obvious national needs and deny the constitutional rights of citizens. Even though the people of the United States are clearly showing their growing disapproval of Bush, his cabinet and the Congress, and Internet reports abound with sound information that justifies the people's shaken faith, still the country will be reeling in shock when the revelations about these politicians come forth.

S: Why did Porter Goss abruptly resign as CIA chief for no apparent reason?

MATTHEW: However valuable Goss's involvement in Illuminati's terrorist activities, which furthered that aspect of their insidious agenda, his abrupt departure was ordered by the topmost members of that dark group. Investigations into the various criminal dealings of the government tied Goss to a number of areas that would expose the Illuminati-controlled CIA faction, and they couldn't allow that to happen to a "sitting" chief. Although their efforts to keep this from surfacing will be futile, there can be the official statement that when Goss's betrayal of national interests was discovered, he was immediately asked to resign and once again "faulty intelligence," this time linked to him, can be blamed. Since all official statements are only assertions with nothing substantive to back them, that would be no different.

I need to digress a moment for some clarification. First, many within the CIA are loyal public servants dedicated to their mission of protecting the United States from potential aggressor nations. With highly specialized jobs and information divulged on a need-to-know basis, those in lower ranking positions don't know what happens in the higher levels of authority, much less that some of their colleagues are rogue agents carrying out "black ops" missions for the Illuminati and are not the covert patriots as contended.

An example of both CIA factions in action and their opposing purposes is the collusion between the White House and select members of the media that "leaked" Valerie Plame as a CIA agent. The consensus that it was "payback" for her husband's intelligence-gathering trip and his findings that disagreed with the official line about Iraq's weapons of mass destruction is not correct. But it was "payback." It was the Illuminati's retaliation for the actions of Ms. Plame and her staff of operatives that prevented the "black ops" from hiding WMD in Iraq, where inspectors would easily find them and prove that Bush's repetitious assertion was right. Although that prevention effort did not deter the ones determined to invade and control Iraq, it does not lessen one iota the true patriotism of Plame and her operatives who acted to uphold the Constitution and defend their country.

Another point of clarification is this: The most powerful of the Illuminati are not public figures such as presidents, premiers, ambassadors, members of Congress or Parliaments, or corporate CEOs, board chairs or head of the Federal Reserve. On the contrary, the peak Illuminati work in secrecy and silence out of public sight as they control those prominent figures.

S: What about Queen Elizabeth?

MATTHEW: She is a rare exception insofar as being in the public eye. However, she is portrayed as a ceremonial figurehead who serves England's enjoyment of the pomp and romance of royal traditions, whereas she actually is among the most powerful of the Illuminati due to the Crown's vast holdings. Still greater influence, though, is centered in the Vatican, with its pernicious outreach of virtual mind control over its religious adherents and ruthlessness in preserving its internal secret societies and untold wealth.

S: This question fits here: With all the talk about the Da Vinci Code movie, is it another attempt to divert attention from something sinister?

MATTHEW: We see it as the opposite--the sinister ones would like to divert attention from the movie. In the timing of the universe, the moment is right for this story, although presented as fiction, to reach the millions of soul searchers for whom the Catholic Church's archaic rules have worn thin and allegations and lawsuits against abusive priests keep growing. The darkness within the papal hierarchy, the most deeply entrenched on the planet, will be the most shocking revelation to your world.

Again I tell you, the greatest challenge to light workers will be the reactions of the religiously devout who will defend their unwavering belief in the dogma they have been taught. Your history shows that styles of political rule rise and fall, philosophies come and go, and science unanimously agreed upon gives way to new theories; but religion is God's or Allah's or Yahweh's or some deity's sacred orders and the immutable foundation of many millions' faith, and therein lies the challenge.

S: Matthew, several readers have asked for guidance in "re-educating" whoever is willing to listen.

MATTHEW: Many among you chose as one of your lifetime missions the enlightenment of those whose lives will be shattered when the truth about the dark origins of all religious dogmas is revealed, thus you are innately prepared for this tremendously important service. Classes to assist you will be available, but for insight in this moment, it will be most helpful for you and for those who are at all receptive if you can perceive the truthful disclosures as they do. Beyond showing compassion for their extreme distress and patience with their resistance, the wisest approach is to listen to how deeply the revelations affected them--their feelings of betrayal are both valid and strong. Some of you will be addressing large audiences and others will be helping on a one-to-one basis; many of you who are pondering a meaningful purpose in your life soon will learn this is one such purpose. It won't be necessary to try to persuade anyone to believe as you do, and arguing about what is truth and what is lies isn't part of your service either. Not all of the religious devout will be able to see the light of the truth. Many will be hostile, and some will resort to violence to protect the "righteousness" of their beliefs and self-assumed missionary roles; others will be deeply depressed and founder in confusion. It is likely that at some point light workers will encounter ones with those varied reactions, but again, you are innately prepared for this phase of Earth's transition.

S: Thank you for that insight and reassurance! Is this the end time of karma on Earth? Please comment on healers who offer karma releasing service.

MATTHEW: Earth has completed her third density karma, which is enabling her ascension, and while every soul on the planet chose to do the same, many are lagging due to fear and its various expressions, such as greed, tyranny, brutality, resentment, prejudice, apathy, egotism--all third density characteristics. It is our fervent prayer that these souls will respond to the ever-increasing light beaming from afar, adding to that which you are generating on the planet. No one can "release" a soul's chosen karmic experiences; however, cellular patterning that once served well but now seems a hindrance may be cleared if the soul's energy field is receptive.

S: Is it true that souls won't ascend with Earth unless they are still living in 2012?

MATTHEW: Residency on Earth for any specific duration in this unique time is neither a requirement nor a guarantee for accompanying Earth in her ascension. In the context of your planet, "ascension" is actual movement from one energy placement into a "higher," or lighter, placement, but the term has been incorrectly used to denote bodies physically lifted off the planet and rising into the ethers. In the eternal life of the soul, ascension is spiritual growth, soul evolution, and each soul experiences this in many places in the universe while "ascending" into the Oneness of All--a return to our Beginning.

S: Can spirit beings read each others' thoughts and as a result, lying isn't possible in spirit worlds?

MATTHEW: Although we souls in spirit most frequently communicate with each other telepathically, or "reading thoughts," which gives no allowance for deceiving another, there is an energy shield in which we can operate that permits us to keep our thoughts private. In "spirit-calling-Earth," or really, vice versa, we are with you the very instant you think of us, so obviously we know your thoughts, too, and we also feel the same sensations you do; but we honor the universal code of privacy that means we never intrude upon your thoughts unless you invite us. With your guardian angels, it is different--they're constantly aware of your thoughts because they are tasked with your physical safety. It is another matter also with the countless thought forms shooting up from Earth into her field of potential--that's where we see and track significant happenings on the planet and assess the energy momentum that determines the possibility, probability or certainty of their course. That's how we are able to report to you what is occurring and, as accurately as we can, tell you where things are going.

But the awareness of your thoughts and feelings is not restricted to beings in spirit. Souls in advanced civilizations have the same capability--witness the many physical beings who gave information to my mother for the books and my messages to her when I am in a body that I manifested to fit in with the civilizations who invited me to their worlds. And please remember that not all souls in spirit or ET embodiment are light beings--the dark ones know you as well as we do, and they do not observe the honor code of no intrusion into your thoughts. That's why we repeatedly urge you to always think positively, to stay steadfast in the light and to hold tight to your vision of peace and harmony and love throughout Earth so there can be no entryway for the darkness to assail you.

S: It's a good reminder, dear. Matthew, is Earth's energy field of potential the same as mass-consciousness?

MATTHEW: No, and I'm glad for your question so I can expound upon my comments. All the thought forms from Creator's Beginning are the cosmic mass consciousness, something rarely even considered on Earth, yet it is from those that our universe and its Supreme Ruler were created. All thought forms since the creation of our universe are the universal mass- consciousness, and that is where the actual substance of the forms resides in a universally big pot of soup with new ingredients continuously being stirred in and "tasted." When someone's thought zings in and, via the universal law of attraction, attaches itself to a like thought form, a hologram of the pairing makes its way back to the thinker on the planet and simultaneously duplicates itself in Earth's energy field of potential.

S: Interesting! Thank you. Is the new disease called Morgellons manmade; what is Morgellons disease, and is it linked to chemtrails; what can we do to protect ourselves from chemtrails' effects?

MATTHEW: All diseases throughout your history have been the work of the dark forces, and for 30 or more years, puppets under its control have directed the laboratory development of diseases known as AIDS, SARs, Avian Flu and various other "flu" names given the virus concoctions that in some cases are airborne and in others are spread through inoculations. These dark assaults to compromise your bodies' functioning and natural healing ability are exacerbated by the electromagnetic waves in your cell phones, computers, and the very atmosphere that sustains your life. Other factors are the effects of pollution in your water, soil and air, and the proliferation of prescription drugs with their contraindications. This is a formidable combination intended to cause illness, debilitation, depression and death, and to some extent, it is difficult to avoid at this time.

The toxins called Morgellons disease are a recent addition to the solution in chemtrails. Until Earth reaches the frequencies where no disease can exist because nothing of dark nature can, the best counter to these new toxins as well as the many others in chemtrails is taking all sensible measures to maintain sound health and strong immune systems. I am not a medical adviser, but I can suggest that if a day is sunny and there are no chemtrails, do absorb the sun's rays using pure aloe as skin protection--the sun is not the menace that the medical establishment makes it out to be! This seems a simplistic aid, but during and after the trails are laid, stay indoors if you can, and if you can't, cover your body completely. Use natural rather than chemical products to reduce or relieve symptoms and try simple topical remedies such as vinegar, hydrogen peroxide and pure aloe.

And pray. Never underestimate the power of prayer! Remembering that prayer is your every thought and feeling, thinking and feeling positively about staying healthy is your best fortification against disease. Boost your positive outlook by frequently saying Thank you! to our diligent ET family who are diminishing the effectiveness of chemtrails' most toxic elements.

Gratitude for the myriad blessings and beauty Earth provides generates a fortress of light for you personally and for your planet. Feeling gratitude--one of the many expressions of love--lifts the spirit, lightens the heart and lets the soul sing.
