August 8, 2006

Dear Friends,

As we are once again "informed" of a terrorist plot. Use the opportunity to compare the current paradigm with that which is possible.

As you seek to make sense of the daily outpouring of the media, remember we are the ones who purchase the products of the manufacturers whose advertising dollars finance these machines of "information." Remember, just because you see it on the TV does not make it true. Also remember this is the same media who has hidden the truth about extraterrestrials for decades.

As you observe the machinations in Washington, remember we in America are the ones who vote for these elected officials. As you see our individual rights removed, remember these are OUR RIGHTS that we are allowing others to take away.

As you watch the slaughter of innocents in the Middle East, recall that we are the ones who supported and continue to support the creation of the situations that lead to this.

As you purchase things that are shipped from the other side of the world, recognize that giant multi-national corporations are merely catering to our desires as expressed with our dollars or EUROS.

As you complain about the high price of fuel, recognize that we are the ones who are driving the SUVs, running our air conditioners, and shipping goods around the world.

As you note the warmer temperatures, know that we are the ones who are largely responsible for this global warming. Also note that this global warming is having all types of impacts from dying coral reefs to droughts.

Yes, we are the ones, by our actions and inactions, who are creating our current paradigm, a paradigm that most people recognize is not quite right.

Yes, there are those who are actively working to enslave us. But we are all too willing too be kept in that condition of slavery, all too willing to ignore the current situation for some momentary gain or some feeling of increased safety.

Taking this one step further, we each signed up to be a part of this current paradigm, a contract we made before incarnating in our current costumes (bodies). We knew what we were getting into. AND WE ALSO KNEW IT WAS OUR ASSIGNMENT TO CHANGE THE PATH OF HUMANITY.

No one, no group, ET or spirit, is going to descend to this planet to "save" us from ourselves. It is up to us to determine our individual futures. It is up to us to collectively determine the future of the planet. Were we to depend on such outside help, we might well be substituting one type of enslavement for another. Assistance and/or coaching is one thing; rescue is quite different.

This is the moment, as the forces of both light and dark escalate, when we must hold to the vision of a transformed humanity, a transformed planet. Each of us has a unique vision; so be it. Let us meld these visions. Collectively we can overcome the darkness that is manifesting by manifesting the light, by manifesting our vision, by manifesting our destiny as cosmic citizens.

Please join with me in reaching for the stars & create a world of harmony and love.

In Truth and Love,

Mark Kimmel
